

Tel maintains final inventory stock of selected products, but primarily builds units to order. Units that are in inventory will ship within two weeks from order receipt. Units that are build-to-order typically take twelve weeks from the time the order is placed until delivery.