

Thank you for visiting Tel-Instrument Electronics Corporations internet web site, www.telinstrument.com. We hope you are able to find information of interest to you about our company and products. If not, or if you have any comments on how we might improve our site, please let us know at webmaster@telinstrument.com.

We respect your privacy when you visit our site. If you want to be an anonymous visitor, you can be. In certain limited circumstances we may need personal information from you. If you provide this information to us, we will handle it as set forth in this policy.

We currently use, or may use in the future, tools to monitor internet traffic and “cookies” to monitor visitor interest. These tools do not collect personal information about you.

You can voluntarily disclose personal information to us through www.telinstrument.com. If you have questions or comments about our company, and if you would like to receive a response from us, we'll need your name, and phone number or email address. In all cases, your personal information will always be confined within Tel-Instrument Electronics Corporation. We will not disclose your information to other entities or organizations without your approval, unless we are required to do so by law, government inquiry or other legal proceedings. Furthermore, internet communication may not be made in a protected form and Tel cannot guarantee that any transmission will be protected from third parties.

We may provide links to the web sites of third parties, such as our customers or suppliers. We are not responsible for these sites or their content, or for the policies or procedures we do not control of the organizations that operate them. While we strive to provide links to reputable organizations, we do not sponsor or control these sites and organizations. We urge you to exercise caution in visiting third party sites. This Privacy Policy does not cover information furnished by such third party sites or organizations.

We may revise this Privacy Policy from time to time. You are encouraged to visit it periodically if privacy issues are of interest to you.
